PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Street Food Vendors Mobile Application Development
- In this project, I spearheaded the development of a comprehensive mobile application aimed at bridging the gap between street food vendors and customers. Recognizing the challenges vendors face in reaching a border audience and the increasing demand from customers for diverse culinary experiences. I conceptualized and implemented a solution that leverages modern technology to benefit both parties.
- Vendors onboarding and management designed and development a user-friendly registration system allowing vendors to create profiles, upload menus with images, set pricing, and update their operational hours. Their features empowered vendors to manage their offering dynamically, ensuring customers received accurate and up-to-date information.
